

National Resource Center for Paraprofessionals

(An American resource center)

The NRCP's mission is to “address policy questions and other needs of the field, provide technical assistance and share information about policy questions, management practices, regulatory procedures, and training models that will enable administrators and staff-developers to improve the recruitment, deployment, supervision, and career development of paraprofessionals.”

To read an article that describes the teamwork between the teacher and the Educational Assistant (called the “paraprofessional” in the U.S.) that should be fundamental, visit:
